The State of the Academy In 2011

Kathy Shingleton, CHP

President of the American Academy of Health Physics

I am pleased to report that the AAHP continues at a healthy and stable level in all of the important categories: membership, finances, and (most importantly) professional value. Maintaining a healthy stature in the first two categories is particularly notable in this era where the “graying of the Society” and the “recession/volatility of the stock market” are common discussion points at almost any meeting involving HPs (particularly those who were hoping to retire in the near future). However, of most importance is the professional value of being a Certified Health Physicist, particularly in a competitive marketplace where more people are working longer.

Membership: As you can see in the chart on the next page, our overall membership has stayed relatively stable, except for the “Non-active” category. These are people who have not kept up their continuing education credits & dues payments. Unfortunately this category continues to grow at a steady rate. Given that our credentials are more meaningful with an active membership, I would encourage you to nudge any colleagues you may have to re-establish their credentials by fulfilling the continuing education requirement (and yes, also paying their dues for the preceding 4-year period.) And speaking of dues....

Finances: Our financial situation is healthy. The fair market value of intermediate and long-term investments totaled $691,837 as of May 31, 2011, an increase of $110,138 (18.9%) since May 31, 2010. Both long and intermediate term securities have continued the strong rebound from the 2008 timeframe, and we are at the highest valuation levels ever for the investment fund. At the May 2011 Finance Committee meeting, the AAHP Executive Committee presented our financial consultant, Neil Abravenal, with a letter of commendation for his management of our funds during this turbulent period. Consistent with the recommendation of the Finance Committee (and with the concurrence of our financial advisor), we voted at the 2011 West Palm Beach Executive Committee meeting to develop a policy that would transfer a small amount (up to 4%) of our investment funds each year into our operating funds, as needed to offset the deficit budget we approve each year. We also voted to increase the cost of the all-day Continuing Education Course from $200 to $275, which is still the best bargain going when looking within the HPS and across other professional organizations.

Professional Value: Some of us may be able to make a direct positive link between certification and our employment status or salary (check out the most recent salary survey) but, for many of us, the value is somewhat more intangible.

It's not just having the opportunity to volunteer for an organization that makes a difference; or getting to work with really smart, fun, (occasionally eccentric?) colleagues; or the occasionally comical confusion that arises with OTHER CHPs (e.g., California Highway Patrol). Rather, it's the presumption of competence that we have when interacting with our management, our organizations, the media, the public, and our elected representatives. It's like a good reputation: hard to earn and valuable to have. Take a moment to encourage your colleagues to get certified; it's a credential that will stand them in good stead throughout their career.

Underscoring the importance of ABHP certification, the International Radiation Protection Association (IRPA) recently established a working group to develop guiding principles for certification of radiation protection experts. Ken Kase (IRPA President & HPS Past-President) appointed Colin Partington from the United Kingdom and Kent Lambert (outgoing ABHP Chair) as co-chairs; noting that the U.K. and U.S. have the most advanced systems in place for certification. This is a well-deserved acknowledgement for both Kent and our ABHP certification process.

I have very much enjoyed my tenure as President of the AAHP and thank you for the opportunity to serve. I'm looking forward to my year as past-president, during which I will arrange for the AAHP Technical Session at the Sacramento, CA annual HPS meeting. The topic of the session will be the National Ignition Facility (NIF) at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. This unique and extraordinary facility uses 96 enormous lasers to focus on a tiny pellet of tritium and deuterium, to produce fusion at levels that Hollywood could only dream of. The NIF presents a vast array of radiological challenges, and if successful in its mission, could represent "game changing" science for the U.S. I hope you'll be able to attend.

In closing, please join me in welcoming the members of the 2012 AAHP Executive Committee and American Board of Health Physics (as listed in the roster provided in this issue, and in thanking Nancy Johnson (our Executive Secretary and Program Director) for her ongoing, outstanding, and tireless support of the AAHP and the ABHP.

- ✓ Discussion about whether ABHP certification will meet the criteria to become a licensed medical health physicist based on the American Association of Physicists in Medicine’s (AAPM’s) legislative template that they are seeking to introducing into State legislatures.
 - Stansbury indicated that the AAHP and AAPM have a letter of understanding that AAHP will not oppose the legislation and AAPM will support ABHP certification as meeting the requirements for licensure as a medical health physicist
 - Lambert stated that while this may be true, the wording in the template (which AAPM refuses to change) when interpreted by lawyers, clearly excludes ABHP certification as meeting one of the criteria. Specifically, the requirement in the legislative template to become a licensed medical health physicist includes (in part) successfully completing an examination in medical physics

- 10.1.4 ABHP review of the definition of or Emeritus Status (Lambert)

- ✓ There was discussion, but no resolution, on the merits of maintaining an association with CHPs that change careers after having a full career in HP
- ✓ There was discussion of the recertification process and definitions of the different categories

10.2 Feedback on ABHP Part II Exam Contents (Lambert)

The ABHP did discuss the request of providing additional information regarding test content to those offering (and taking) ABHP prep courses. In short, they felt sufficient information was available via the preparation guide which is already on the website. If users feel the guide is not adequate, they need to provide feedback to the preparers.

10.3 Evaluation of Non-Active CHP Survey (Stansbury)

Already discussed in section 5.3

10.4 Burk and Associates Contract (Stansbury)

There was an open action item to review the Burk and Associates contract in light of Nancy Johnson's position as Executive Secretary. Nancy will forward the contract to the President, Past-President, and President-elect.

11.0 New Business

11.1 New Committee Members (Frazier)

Already discussed in section 5.2 but with a change. Andy Miller was removed from the Nominating Committee due to his appointment to the ABHP

11.2 Budget Approval (R. Johnson)

- ✓ Discussed in section 6.4
- ✓ Approved bonus for Burk and Associates

11.3 Approval of Transfer of Funds (R. Johnson)

- ✓ Discussed in section 6.4
- ✓ Transfer of money to operating account will bring the operating account back up to usual level
- ✓ Discussion of periodically transferring (a fraction of annual budget~2-4%) money to the operating account depending on the money gained through growth in other accounts. Drew reported that this is a common practice for many organizations and doesn't usually result in a degradation of principle

11.4 Replacement of ABHP Members (Fordham)

Discussed in section 6.5

11.5 Ad Hoc Committee On Web Enhancements (Shingleton)

Issues in section 10.1.3 were moved here.

- ✓ President Shingleton commissioned an ad committee to explore the possibility of enhancing the website such that members would be able to:
 - Pay dues on-line, and
 - Keep track of their CECs in between certification cycles

It was pointed out that it is the members' (not the Academy's) responsibility to keep track of accumulated CECs. It was also acknowledged that an on-line system could benefit the CE and PD Committees, as well as the members. The ad hoc committee will look into the time and effort to implement online CEU bank for members.

11.6 Covering Additional Costs From Receiving Dues Via Credit Card (Shingleton)

The option of on-line dues payment is being explored as part of the ad hoc committee on web enhancement, Use of credit cards results in extra costs to the Academy (over and above paying by check), and the discussion centered on whether or not the convenience is worth the added cost, and if so, how to cover the costs. Several options were discussed and will be brought to the EC once more of the web enhancement ideas are flushed out.

11.7 2012 Special Session Update (Shingleton)

Next year's Academy Special Session will be focused on the National Ignition Facility (NIF), which is coming on-line at the Lawrence Livermore National Lab (LLNL). Because LLNL is close to Sacramento, it will be easy (logistically) to get a variety of speakers, who can address topics ranging from the purpose of NIF, to the radiological challenges, to what this science can mean to our nation. President to pursue the scheduling a technical tour of the NIF, but there will be security issues (e.g. for non US citizens); will report back at mid-year meeting on progress.

11.8 Increasing AAHP Membership In HPS (Frazier)

Discussed whether it is worth effort to try to increase the members of AAHP to become members of HPS. Research showed that there are little over 100 Academy members that are not members of HPS. Will look into the effort to see how much effort it would take to increase cross memberships

11.9 Academy Open Meeting Agenda (Shingleton)

11.10 IRPA (Stansbury)

Past-President Stansbury discussed his views that the AAHP should get more involved in IRPA. As IRPA allows only one member society per country (the HPS), Past-President Stansbury suggested that the AAHP might be looked at as an international society. He proposed that the Academy could either ask:

- ✓ The HPS to select an Academy representative as one of their IRPA slots, or
- ✓ Ask IRPA to make special category for AAHP

There was discussion on the an AAHP EC member attending the IRPA meeting. The issue will be brought up to HPS at the Wednesday business meeting of HPS

11.11 Continuing Education Course Costs (Willison)

There was a general discussion about how much the Academy charges for a full-day course ($200), and the fact that it is far less (per CEU) than is charged by most other organizations, including the HPS. It was also pointed out that the CEU courses are a major source of income for the Academy. The discussion about how much to charge generated a number of different suggestions ($250, $275, $300). Ultimately, a motion was made to charge $275. The possibility of remote viewing of taped courses was also discussed, but no motions were made.

11.12 Review of Documents (Maisler)

Jay Maisler will send out emails to all to remind those responsible to review and update their SOPs prior to the annual and mid-year meetings

11.13 OPEN

11.14 February 2012 Meeting Date

The meeting in Dallas will be on February 5, 2012 from 8:00 a.m.to 5:00 p.m.

12.0 Adjournment

ABHP EXAM APPLICATION REMINDER: Complete applications to take either part of the 2012 ABHP examination must be filed with the Secretariat, postmarked no later than 17 January 2012. Application information may be found at <http://www.hps1.org/aahp/boardweb/forms.html>.

THE 2011 CHP SALARY SURVEY

Gary Lauten

Introduction

The 2011 Certified Health Physicist (CHP) survey data was collected by having CHPs submit their responses to survey questions on a web-based data entry form. As was done in previous years, data was collected in coordination with a salary survey of the entire Health Physics Society (HPS).

The HPS salary survey results will be reported separately in the Health Physics Newsletter.

The survey was also available in hardcopy form for those who preferred to fax or mail their responses.

Questions about this survey should be directed to Gary Lauten, via email: chpsalarysurvey@yahoo.com

Data Analysis

The salary ranges marked by CHPs on the completed survey forms were rounded to the midpoints of those ranges before statistical analyses were performed. For example, if a CHP marked the salary range $50,000 to $52,499; their salary was rounded to the midpoint value of $51,250.

Responses from CHPs who were either part time or retired were not analyzed, since the data did not appear to allow meaningful comparisons to be made.

To avoid skewing the results, data from seven survey respondents were excluded from the data analysis because they indicated that they earned less than $61,250 or $200,000 or more per year.

Of 58 respondents who reported receiving a significant (10 % or more) salary increase upon attaining ABHP certification: 34% received this increase from their current employer, 17% from a promotion with their current employer, 34% received this increase from a new employer, and 14% did not answer.

CHP salaries by region are also presented in this report.

Data Presentation

In an effort to make the results of the survey interesting and useful, CHPs were subcategorized in several ways by education, primary job responsibility, years of experience, and combinations of these subcategories.

Readers are cautioned that for statistical validity, results were given only if there were 10 or more CHPs within that subcategory. Data presented for one subcategory of CHPs may not be possible for another subcategory.

The subcategories in the tables may also change from year to year, depending on the number of responses received. Every effort was made to keep the subcategories consistent with previous surveys, but if there were less than 10 CHPs the results were not given.

Tables and Figures

Tables show results for full-time CHPs who received health, vacation, and retirement benefits from their primary employer unless otherwise noted.

Histograms of the data shown in Table 1- All CHPs, and Table 2 - Masters Health Physics are included as Figures 1 and 2 respectively.

All of the following tables are for fulltime CHPs with benefits, unless otherwise indicated.

Call for Nominations
2012 Joyce P. Davis Memorial Award

*Ruth E. McBurney
Chair, Professional Standards and Ethics Committee*

The American Academy of Health Physics (AAHP) established the Joyce P. Davis Memorial Award in recognition of her dedication to the advancement of health physics and her humanitarian efforts to uphold the ethics of the profession. The recipient of this award should demonstrate excellence in professional achievement as well as being admired for ethical behavior and interpersonal skills.

The eligibility requirements are:

1. A member of AAHP for at least 10 years,
2. A champion of professional standards and ethics, and
3. Exemplary professional service to the AAHP or the American Board of Health Physics.

It is time to start thinking about those individuals in the Academy community who poses these great qualities so they may be recognized at next year's meeting. I encourage you to nominate a deserving member of AAHP for this prestigious award. Any member of the Academy can make nominations. Selection criteria are presented in AAHP Standard Operating Procedure 2.7.2, Rev. 1, which can be found on the AAHP web site in the Members Only Section, AAHP Library. The previous recipients of the award are John P. Kelly, James E. Tarpinian, Carol D. Berger, Howard W. Dickson, and Frazier Bronson. The award will be presented at the AAHP Awards Luncheon during the 57th Health Physics Society Annual Meeting in Sacramento, California, July 22-26, 2012.

Nominations should include a brief biographical resume of the nominee's career, A description of service to the profession & AAHP, a nomination letter, and at least three reference letters in support of the nomination, from AAHP members. Nominations (consisting of a nomination letter and current resume of the nominee) must be submitted to the AAHP Nominating Committee (Chair, Steven King, email: sking@psu.edu), on or before 1 March 2012. The Selection Committee for this distinguished award is comprised of the AAHP Professional Standards and Ethics Committee (Ruth McBurney, Chair), the Past President of the AAHP, and the Past Chairman of the ABHP. The award will be presented at the AAHP luncheon during the annual HPS meeting in Sacramento.
